Called the FAA number on the TFR.
All they said is Not an error. It came Through their management about an hour ago. They're anticipating a high call volume and they were told to refer inquiries to "9-ator-hq-soc@faa.gov"

Wow

10:16 PM

This is a first

10:18 PM

Any word from Jared ?

10:23 PM

I let him know, he hasn't heard anything also

10:24 PM

Have any of the airlines started canceling flight flights yet?

10:25 PM

Doesn't look like it yet

10:26 PM

It starts at 11 our time?

10:28 PM

11:30!

Are there any other airports affected?

Like Arizona or New Mexico

It doesn't seem so

Damn. I've called everyone. No one knows nothing,

This is wild.

Very

The question is, are we doing something or are we expecting something?

This is why I figured Jared would know. Do we escalate our contingency plan?

As of now, you are not hearing of any flight cancellations?

Not yet. But we're in it now.

Flights are going to start getting cancelled.

Added you to our chat. Shawn just said this: Dave Brunette, TSA Intel, says the notam was issued through DOW
